WANDA M. COLEMAN

LIFE ...LEGACY

[1960-1995]

Wanda Marie Mitchell Coleman was born in Cleveland, Ohio on November 16, 1960. Coleman's position at Cleveland State University involved working with many campus cultural activities, numerous student programs and various minority organizations on campus. She was the recipient of the Outstanding Student Advisor Award in 1993 and 1994, the Outstanding Young Woman in American Recognition in 1991, the Martin Luther King, Jr. Civil Rights Award in 1990, and the NAACP National College Chapter Award in 1989, 1991, 1993 and 1994. She was featured in The Plain Dealer as part of WZAK-FM 93's Black Profiles Salute.

In addition to her extensive work at Cleveland State University, Wanda M. Coleman also worked in various capacities with the NAACP and other community agencies. Her community activities included volunteer work with the YWCA's North Central Center in East Cleveland, Junior Achievement, the Children's Community Choir and the Messengers of Joy Gospel Choir at Cleveland State University. She had recently been elected President of the Parent/Teacher Organization at New Hope Christian Academy where her daughter, Krissia, attended.

Education was a priority for Wanda M. Coleman as she earned a Bachelor of Arts in Sociology from Cleveland State University in 1990 and had recently applied for a fellowship with the National Urban Fellows, Inc. in New York City.

Wanda M. Coleman was employed in a dual capacity at Cleveland State University, Program Specialist for the Office of Minority Affairs and Human Relations and Coordinator for Alumni Affairs. In keeping with Coleman's student-centered approach to her work, she and five other representatives of Cleveland State University attended the funeral of slain Cleveland State University basketball star, Jamal Jackson. On August 24, 1995, as they returned from Boston, Wanda M. Coleman was involved in a fatal car accident. Hundreds mourned her untimely death.
